

Welcome Aboard

Marine Corps Security Force Battalion
Kings Bay, GA

Welcome to Marine Corps Security Force battalion, Kings Bay, GA. We provide a unique role to strategic deterrence. The battalion is comprised of 1,000 Marines and Master-at-Arms Sailors in our challenging mission. Whether this is your first duty station or if you are a seasoned military mover as a Marine or Sailor, I know that you will find our mission and role unique within the Department of Defense. Rest assured that this is a dynamic and challenging duty station that you will find both personally and professionally rewarding.

All PCS moves present challenges for both single service members and those moving with their families. We want you to have a smooth transition to Kings Bay. We have numerous resources that you and/or your family can take advantage of to help make your move easier. Our Readiness Coordinator, Staff Sergeant Phillips, can provide you with information and links to base and local community resources that you may need as you look to transition to Kings Bay. He provides information and services to both single service members and families in the command. I encourage you to reach out to him through our official Marine Corps Security Force Battalion, Kings Bay, GA website or at his email: jonathan.phillips@swflant.navy.mil as an introduction and overview to the command. He is also a great place to start if your spouse would like to get involved in command events and learn about volunteer opportunities.

If you are in receipt of orders here, you will be contacted in the coming weeks by a member of the command who can provide you with additional details and answers to questions that you may have. My wife Chona and I look forward to meeting you and your family. Semper Fidelis and Semper Fortis!
